AMERICANS ON THE VESSEL

Danish Vessel, Said to Have Been

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—When the White Star freighter Dovic sighted an eastward bound submarine in the Atlantic yesterday morning, she was apparently in pursuit of a Danish passenger ship, the Hellig Olav, according to observers on the deck of the Dovic, which arrived here today.

The nationality of the submarine was not identified. The Dovic, in fear of an attack because of being a freight ship, put on full speed and headed directly west. At the time she passed out of sight of the other two vessels, the Danish boat still seemed to be endeavoring to escape from the submarine.

The weather was clear and the Hellig Olav was between two and three miles distant at the moment she was first observed, with the submarine about one mile to the Dovic's stern. This was approximately 200 miles east of New York.

The Hellig Olav left here Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports, carrying 36 passengers in the first cabin, 37 in the second cabin and steerage passengers. Many of those in the cabin were Americans.

At the time she was sighted by the Dovic the Dane was flying no flag, but her identity was distinguished by her name and the Danish flag painted on her side.

The Dovic reached port with a gun mounted on her stern.

Representatives of the Scandinavian-American Line said here today that the Hellig Olav carried no contraband and that they did not believe her captain would undertake to escape from a submarine. The line had sent a wireless message to the ship asking for an account of the circumstances.

HOLDUPS A HABIT WITH THIS SOLDIER BOY, AND BIG GUNS ALWAYS FIGURE IN THE TALE

The khaki-clad man, representing himself as Corporal M. H. Sager of South Side, Pittsburg, who told the police of Dunbar and Connellsville he was robbed of $44.35, a gold watch and a valued medal at Fayette station on Thursday night, seems to have been robbed right and left during the last week. According to the Bellevue Enterprise, M. H. Sager of Water street, South Side, Pittsburg, reported that two negroes and an Italian held him up and robbed him of $142 and a watch belonging to his father near the water works there on Monday morning.

According to the same newspaper, the soldier reported the matter to the police, but apparently was little interested in an effort to round up the highwaymen. He said his purse and 25 cents had been returned to him by the robbers, but a Bellevue barber reports that some time later he was tendered a bill of small denomination by the man who had told the police 25 cents was all he possessed. At Bellevue, Corporal Sager's assailants wielded .31 caliber revolvers, according to his own story. His assailants at Fayette station had weapons of .45 calibre, so he claimed. All of which might be a clue to something or other.

North of the Somme the French made progress on Malancourt ridge, north of Bouchemmes.

A total of seven persons killed and more than a score injured was the extent of the casualties, says the statement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Negotiations for American railway construction in China were concluded a fortnight ago and call for a $60,000,000 loan by the American International Corporation and the construction as soon as possible of 1,500 miles of railway through the richest section of China by the Siemens & Halske Company of St. Paul. An optional contract for the construction of an additional 1,000 miles of railway later was contained in the agreement.

The United States government has taken no part in the arrangement of the agreements, that being solely in the hands of American financiers.

Five hundred gallons of benzine in the factory fed the flames and kept firemen from approaching within fighting distance while the blaze was at its height and caused many explosions. All surrounding dwellings and factories were saved.

President Wilson Says the Emergency Which Called Them There "Un-happily Still Exists."

By Associated Press.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 14.—President Wilson in a letter to Governor Whitman of New York sent October 9 and made public here today declared that the emergency which caused the sending of the militia to the Mexican border "unhappily still exists." He added, however, that he believed conditions in Northern Mexico are improving and that "in the near future" it probably will be possible to do more than has been done to relieve the embarrassment under which organized militia regiments have necessarily suffered.

President Wilson wrote to Governor Whitman in answer to a letter from the New York executive regarding the New York militia organizations on the border. He told Mr. Whitman it was impossible to set a date on which the remaining New York regiments there could be relieved.

"The President in his letter declared he had been advised by the War Department that a withdrawal of the militia at any time since they were sent to the border would in all human likelihood have been followed by fresh aggressions from Mexico upon the lives and property of the people of the United States."

In his letter the President paid a high tribute to the character of the militiamen on the border and declared that any organizations were being kept there to perfect their military training.

DOG CASES IN COURT

Connellsville Man Gets $25 for Loss of Valuable Pup.

The case in which John Davies of Connellsville sought to recover damages from Michael J. Kerrigan for killing his blooded English bull pup "Sammy" was closed yesterday when a jury awarded Mr. Davies $25. The owner claimed the pup was worth between $300 and $500 and brought John Sturgis, a dog expert who said he had had 20 years experience in judging canines, to testify regarding its worth. The expert was not permitted to testify, as he admitted he had not seen the pup.

"Sammy" was killed by Mr. Kerrigan, a Baltimore & Ohio train dispatcher, one day last May. He claimed that the animal attacked him, and that he killed it with a stone to protect himself.

Kerrigan was tried and acquitted at the June criminal term of maliciously killing the dog.

The case in which Walter Thomas asked $300 damages from Thomas Jones for killing two English setters was also decided, the plaintiff being awarded $10. Both litigants are retired residents of Uniontown. Jones testified that Thomas' dogs killed his chickens and geese.

Removing his shoes, he stretched out and was soon in the land of nod. Officials, however, objected to the gentleman's use of the waiting room and called Patrolman Hill to the scene.

After some minutes' work, Hill aroused the sleeper and notified him that there was a bed waiting for him at the lockup. The man objected, however, and refused to put on his shoes. The cop took him without footwear. He was paraded across to the fire station and locked up in one of the old cells there.

TO STAGE EXHIBITION DRILL

Maneuvers at Loucks Park Will Follow the Parade. After Which There Will be a Banquet for the Soldiers
Who Are Home From the Border.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 14.—Scottdale this afternoon and tonight will pay its tribute to the members of Company E, who this week returned to their home after four months in the federal service on the Texas border. Scottdale contributed a large percentage of the enrollment to the Mount Pleasant company, and the Mill Town proposes to show its interest in the National Guard by a real celebration.

Because of the fact that the members of Company E have had an opportunity to rest up from their long trip, the Scottdale celebration promises to be really of greater interest to them than was even the homecoming reception at Mount Pleasant Wednesday night.

There will be a big parade at Scottdale this afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, following which the national guard company will give an exhibition drill at Loucks Park. This promises to be of especial interest, as few local folks have had an opportunity to witness any of the companies in action.

In one other respect the celebration will be unique. Captain Hitchman of Mount Pleasant has promised to have the machine guns in the parade. The three guns were sent to Mount Pleasant yesterday to be cleaned up, and the squad of five gunners will take part in the parade.

After the parade and drill a banquet will be served the soldiers in the Elks' home.

Tonight there will be a general celebration in honor of the soldier boys.

Three machine guns used by the Tenth Regiment machine gun squad during their border service are now at the Mount Pleasant armory where they will be cleaned by Armory John Miller. With them were brought two auto trucks also belonging to the machine gun company. These terrific death messengers attracted a good deal of attention.

The machine gun company of the Tenth Regiment was commanded by Captain John D. Hochman. It consisted of three lieutenants and 33 men. It will be mustered out along with the rest of the guard. Its headquarters are at Greensburg.

COKE MARKET RUNNING WILD

As High as $4.80 is Paid for Spot Pinnacle Fuel: $5 Coke Seems Certain.

Indications are that the spot furnace coke market has gone wild. Yesterday as high as $4.80 was paid, and it is predicted that $5 coke is a virtual certainty. The general asking price on contract furnace coke for the first half of next year is $4, and while this has not yet been decided, it is reported on good authority that one contract at $3.75 has been closed. Contracts this year ranged from $2.15 to $2.75.

The flurry in coke is due not to increased consumption, but to labor and car shortage, and the demand for coal. The coal market is running to fancy prices and coke operators are shipping as much raw coal as they can get cars for.

It is expected that Lake Superior ore will command an advance of $1 a ton when prices for next year are announced. Pig iron is already advancing in price, Bessemer being quoted yesterday at $24. Valley, $3 higher than the quotation four weeks ago.

BIG BEAM PLACED

Balcony Support for Orpheum Theatre

Pittsburg street was blocked for a while this morning while an immense beam which was brought from the Connellsville Iron Works to the Orpheum Theatre was unloaded. The beam was 56 feet long, and weighed six tons. It will support the balcony of the new movie house. Two wagon trucks were used to support the beam while it was taken through the city. The trucks were at least 40 feet apart.

TROTTER MINER EARNS $14
IN ONE DAY LOADING COAL; IS IN THE PIT NINE HOURS

Charles Kunish, a miner at the Trotter plant of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, made what his fellow miners believe is just about the record for a day's earnings when in the nine hours from the time he entered the pit until he left it, he loaded 25 50-bushel wagons of machine mined coal and drove down for the day's work, just $14.

Kunish is 27 years old and an American. He resides at Wheeler. A record was kept of his performance. He walked from his home in Wheeler to the Trotter shaft, where at 6.30 he went down into the mine. He then had about a mile and a quarter to reach his room. At 8 o'clock he stopped 11 minutes to eat some breakfast. After loading more coal, he stopped 10 minutes at 10 o'clock for a bite of lunch, while at noon he took 15 minutes for dinner. During the day he lost 20 minutes time waiting for empty wagons.

One man was killed and another badly hurt just as they were completing a contract for improving the road near Herber today. A chain by which an asphalt distributing tank was being drawn by an automobile broke, throwing the two men under the heavy wagon.

Superintendent William Fredericks was thrown under the wheels of the tank wagon and instantly killed, his head being crushed. Frederick CHIT suffered a broken leg and other injuries. The tongue of the wagon knocked the men over. Both resided in Philadelphia.

The Manwaring-Cummings Company of Philadelphia had the contract for resurfacing the road near Herber and were to have completed the job at 10 o'clock today. The accident occurred at 8.30.

ROADS ARE CLOSED

Construction Work Once More Blocks
Two Routes Out of Town.

Two much traveled routes out of town are once more closed as the result of the resumption of construction work, and it will probably be some weeks before they are opened to travel.

This week Contractor John Duggan resumed work on the short stretch of connecting the road near Herber and Leisewitz No. 1 and Pheeters', and this route will not be open again for some weeks. Most of the travel between Connellsville and Uniontown was over this route, because of the fact that it gives the greatest distance of improved roadway.

Automobileists who have been using a portion of the old Pennsylvanian road will have to stay off it for a while as some bridges are being put in by the Bell-Bockel Company. This road has never been formally opened for travel, although motorists have gone over it at their own risk, many contending that, and as it is, it is the best route to Mount Pleasant. It is not expected to be blocked for any great length of time, and those who prefer not to travel by way of Valley Works and Everson, will go north via Hemmingers' Mills and Bridgeport, into Mount Pleasant.

WILL ATTEND GAME

Soldier Boys to be Guests of High School This Afternoon.

The Company D boys have been invited to attend the football game this afternoon as the guests of the high school athletic association. The guardians will undoubtedly turn out and help cheer Connellsville to victory over Westinghouse High.

Other towns to the region have pursued the same plan. Members of Company F will see the Greensburg-Uniontown contest at Greensburg, and several other companies will be honored in the same way.

The game this afternoon promises to be a good one. Westinghouse is the first Pittsburg high school to send a team here. The visitors were badly beaten by Farmus High last Saturday, but they have gotten down to work this week and the coaches are enthusiastic over the improvement shown.

FEWER MEN KILLED

Death Rate Per 1,000 Among Miners,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—There was a decrease in the number of men killed in metal mines of the United States during 1915, but an increase in the death rate per 1,000 men employed. Statistics announced by the Bureau of Mines today show that 536 men were killed out of 152,113 employed, compared with 559 killed out of 155,115 employed in 1914. The death rate was 3.64 for each 1,000 employed compared with 3.64 the previous year.

The injured numbered 35,295, of which 35 were permanently disabled. The number injured in 1914 was 30,215.

FIREMEN MAKE A FINE RECORD

B. & O. Company and Local Department Save Several Homes at Indian Creek.

The big fire at Indian Creek was brought to an end yesterday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock by the efforts of the Connellsville fire department and the Baltimore & Ohio firemen. Four houses and a store were totally destroyed, but the fire fighters from here arrived in time to save the rest of the town.

The occupants of the houses destroyed were Walter Smith, Edward Worrick, Fred Daberkto and Bruce Miller. Henry W. Miller, the postmaster, who lived above the Sichel store, was also burned out. Five box cars and a tool shed were destroyed.

Chief Thomas J. Brennan's force of railroad firemen were the first on the scene. Previous to their arrival at about 12.30, no efforts had been made to save the Worrick house, where the fire started. Residents of Indian Creek concentrated on removing the furniture from the burning house and from the nearby dwellings.

The railroad firemen made a record trip of 13 minutes to the village, and but for lack of sufficient water pressure, they could have saved the store. They carried 500 feet of hose. Air pressure from one locomotive was used to throw a stream, and when this was found to be insufficient, a second locomotive was brought to the scene. It was then that the firemen got to work, saving the other houses and the Baltimore & Ohio and Indian Creek Valley railroad stations.

The West Side department arrived shortly after the railroad firemen, and rendered efficient aid by the use of their chemicals.

The cause of the fire, it is now practically certain, was a defective flue in the Worrick house. The Worrick family was seated at dinner, and knew nothing of the fire until someone passing the house noticed the blaze and notified them.

Only one injury was caused by the fire. Henry W. Miller suffered a badly gashed head when a piece of furniture was tossed from one of the houses and struck him.

George Brown, who damaged the lockup recently while serving sentence there by tearing down part of the wall, pulling out a radiator and breaking electrical connections, agreed to pay for the necessary repairs at a hearing before Alderman Fred Munk last night.

Alderman Munk figured that $10 would cover the damage, and in addition to this, decreed that Brown should pay the costs of the case. Brown was penniless, but a friend put up the money for him. Brown, who is a white-haired man, said that he did not remember his attempt to tear down the lockup.

Man Who Escapes Chain Gang is Sent

James Daily, who was fined $15 in police court two days ago, was arrested again last night and has been sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. Daily was arrested by Patrolman Rull and charged with drunkenness. He is the man who escaped from the chain gang at Uniontown while saving a jail sentence there.

George Daugherty, charged with being drunk and disturbing the peace, and with escaping from the chain gang here, was also sent to the county jail after a hearing before Mayor Marietta in police court. George will reside at the county seat for 15 days.

No Fire in House When Occupants

By Associated Press.

Basing their suspicions on an alleged threat of personal violence against Peter Rider, the Department of Safety and fire department are making a thorough investigation of the fire which destroyed the house occupied by Mr. Rider on South Arch street early on the morning of October 4. Arrests may follow.

Mr. Rider has informed the authorities since the fire that he was threatened by persons who sought revenge for a fabled wrong several years ago. This fact and the knowledge that there was no fire in the house when the family retired on the night of October 3 lead to the theory that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The house, which was owned by Mrs. C. E. Spisson, was a total loss and Mrs. Rider and three small children were only saved from being burned alive by the prompt action of Baltimore & Ohio railroad men who saw the flames, broke open the door and roused the occupants. By the time the family and a few belongings had been gotten out, the house was a mass of flames and though the Baltimore & Ohio and city fire departments responded to an alarm it was found to be useless to turn any water on the almost totally destroyed building.

Under the direction of Public Safety Director M. B. Pryce all fires that have occurred in Connellsville this year have been thoroughly investigated. A campaign to prevent fires due to carelessness has had the result of materially reducing fire losses and blazes believed to be of incendiary origin have been rigidly probed. Consequently, if evidence can be secured to connect this fire with the persons suspected the limit of the law's punishment will be invoked.

An investigation of an incendiary fire in the Welbo Building some months ago revealed an arson plot, the perpetrators of which were arrested and prosecuted.

ATTENDANCE AT SYNOD GROWING

Church Boards and Educational Institutions of Reformed Church All Represented.

Special to The Courier
MEYERSDALE, Oct. 14.—The attendance at the annual meeting of the Pittsburg Synod of the Reformed Church has been greatly augmented, practically all of the boards and educational institutions of the church in general being represented. Most of these will address the synod along the lines of work in which they are interested.

Devotional services on Thursday morning were conducted by Rev. E. M. Dietrich of Pottsville. Rev. R. J. Pilgram delivered an address before the synod on "The Duty of the Reformed Church in the Present Day in Her Relation to the Social Condition of the Country." This was the first of a series of addresses which will be delivered at the opening of each day's sessions.

The reorganization was completed by electing Rev. W. C. Jyken of Greensburg, vice president and Rev. David Dunn of Turtle Creek, corresponding secretary. Rev. J. H. Mickle, D. D., of Johnstown, continues as stated clerk.

The president appointed the various standing committees. Practically the entire day's business session was taken up with the report of the standing committees on minutes of synod and minutes of classes.

The evening devotional services were conducted by Rev. R. E. Crum of Dubois, and J. M. Evans of Butler. Rev. S. L. Bromer, D. D., of Greensburg, presided. The first speaker of the evening was Rev. A. M. Keitel of Greensville, superintendent of St. Paul's Orphan Home, who presented the cause of that institution in a very forceful manner. The subject of "Ministerial Relief" was very ably discussed by Rev. J. M. Menninger, D. D., of Lancaster, and Rev. D. N. Dittmar of Mann's Choice.

The convention, held after the Northern Baptist Convention of America, of which it is a constituent part, is a delegated body composed of pastors and appointed delegates from all Baptist churches and mission boards in the state. This year's convention is expected to be the most important gathering of Baptists ever held in this state. A large place on the program will be given to a discussion of a "Five Year Program," a new constructive movement by which the Baptists plan to add 1,000,000 to their membership during the next five years and double their missionary, educational and ministerial forces.

Addresses were made by Rev. W. B. Pottel, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Dawson, and Rev. Ralph Bell, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Vanderbilt, and now pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Smithfield. Special music was rendered by the church choir. The church was handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums, cosmos and other fall flowers. Following the program refreshments were served in the dining room of the church.

Cheat Haven Man Recalls Contest of 36 Years Ago.
Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 14.—George W. Baker, 61 years old, of Cheat Haven, a former this week, was the oldest baseball fan in the courthouse who watched the results of the world series. Mr. Baker was the catcher on the Cheat Haven team which played 30 years ago, and he said today that all of the members of the old team are living except one. They played their last game on the presidential election day 36 years ago, defeating Point Marion. For four years the team played. Mr. Baker said, and lost only one game. Point Marion captured that one at Point Marion with "their own ball," a lively one. The Cheat Haven players used a dead ball.

The members of the old Cheat Haven team, with the exception of John Lemery, the second baseman, who died, can be gotten together in four hours are George Blaney, first baseman, Frank Blaney, third baseman, Jerry Burchinal, right fielder; O. B. Baker, middle fielder; O. J. Emory, left fielder; George Emery, shortstop; A. F. Lyons, pitcher, and George Baker, catcher.

EUROPEAN METHODS OF CENSORING THE MOVIES ARE QUEER

Not Morals, but Politics, are Thoughts of the Foreign Censor.

TRIANGLE NOW USES TRAILERS

Strips of Film Attached to Regular Releases Advertise Coming Features.
N. Z. Wood, of the Helen Holmes
Company, is Dead; Notes of Players.

The difference between America and certain European countries is reflected in the motion picture world. Morals are not the only things that the German and Russian censors think of when they look at pictures. They also remember politics and see to it that governmental authority is not made light of or attacked in any way. Germany, since the war began, contrary to other warring countries, according to a European motion picture maker who has recently come to this country, has put a damper upon the presentation of farces and other light forms of play. It is said that Chaplin films would not be permitted in that country. The people must not laugh too much. All stories about spies are prohibited and spies as characters must be handled very carefully. The showing of transmission of messages by carrier pigeons is prohibited because the government has a special department to furnish carrier pigeons for use in connection with operations of spies.

In Russia, according to the same authority, while the commission of crime such as murder is not objected to by the censor, it is not possible to exhibit a film which pictures religious strikes, cruelty on the part of the police, or that shows a situation in which the police, or a symbol of governmental authority, are subjected to ridicule. The police must always be shown as the victorious force and in the right.

The Triangle Film Corporation has inaugurated a distinct novelty that is generating large quantities of satisfaction in the breasts of the exhibitors throughout the country. With each release now sent forth goes from 75 to 100 feet of pictorial trailer, calling the attention to the high spots and features in the succeeding release. The new trailer is artistically designed and represents considerable care of selection on the part of the studios, being made up of from two or three different scenes from the coming play, together with the star appearing therein, and also the features of the drama.

Roscoe Arbuckle has announced that he will cease to be a Keystone player after January, when he will begin work for his own corporation, which will be known as The Comique Film Corporation.

Immediately after the completion of the most important roles in the new Vitaphone play "The Battle Cry of War," successor to the "Battle Cry of Peace," James Morrison, left the Vitaphone organization and joined the Ivan Film Productions.

Gail Kane, the star in the World Film production, "The Scarlet Oath," soon to be released was recently arrested while speeding her automobile. When arraigned before the local justice of the peace it was decided that she was too pretty to fine.

"Under Suspicion," a famous story by E. Phillips Oppenheim, has been pictured by Universal and will shortly be released under the Red Feather brand.

Carter De Haven is directing his own company and playing leads at Universal City. He recently finished "Timothy Doodie, That's Me," and is now filming "The Cub Passes."

J. Warren Kerrigan is to be seen shortly in the role of a newspaper reporter in "The Mainspring," produced by Universal.

Charlie Chaplin will appear at the Paramount in "The Pawn Shop," his latest comedy release, Thursday, November 2.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My baby got a very small spot on his cheek when three months old and it grew worse until it reached the size of a quarter of a dollar. It was very red and inflamed and festered at times and if the nights were warm the itching was very bad and I was kept awake often. He was very restless and his face was very much disfigured. It looked ugly and became red when I rubbed it. The trouble lasted about five months.

Bruce learns Mary's real identity from the laundress and realizing great social gulf between them, heartbroken, Mary visits the slices of her father and provokes him into taking her one night to Bruce studio, where she sees his model as misconstrues the meaning of his presence there and when Bruce enters she tells him she hates him.

Bruce, heartbroken, is about to destroy her portrait but his model, who secretly loves him, intervenes, saves it, sends it to the Art Institute under Bruce's name, and enters it in the prize competition, and lastly goes to Mary's father and explains all to him.

Mary's father decides to make a test and after he has gathered about him Addison, persistent suitor of Mary, favored by her mother for social reasons, Bruce and Mrs. Anderson, he tells them that through unexpected business reverses, he is penniless and must marry his daughprovokes Addison into withdrawing his suit. Haldeman, however, is extremely happy now that the barrier of wealth is removed.

The model telephones to him that Bruce has won the grand prize at the Art Exhibit, which makes him a rich man.
Mr. Anderson then warns Bruce to be careful in his decision, now that he has achieved fame and fortune, but Bruce in answer clasps Mary to him, as Mr. Anderson confesses to his wife that the tale of poverty was only a ruse to test his manhood.

THE PARAMOUNT

"THE PATRIOT"—A thrilling story of the Mexican border with William S. Hart in the leading role, is being presented today in addition to a Keystone comedy, "The French Milliner," presenting Fay Tincher. "The Patriot" is a pulsating story of a man, whose burning devotion to the stars and stripes turns to smoldering coals of hate and then is restored by the advent of a golden haired boy, who resurrects loving memories. It is abundant with the atmosphere of Mexico, depicting border raids with all the realistic horror that has been graphically related recently by refugees from the war zone. Hart has the title role, that of Bob Wilcox, a homesteader and miner, whose suspicion that his government has defrauded him makes a traitor of him. Next to Hart in importance in the cast are George Stone and Francis Carpenter, well known child actors, who have scored heavily in several Triangle releases. "Rags," the studio dog, who came from nowhere and isn't any particular kind of a dog, has a big part in this drama. The almost human intelligence often shown by the members of the canine family is said to be aptly illustrated by "Rags," who is devoted to little "Bobbie." There is no leading lady in the picture, the cast consisting of men, children, Indians and dogs. Night photography of a degree of excellence that rarely has been approached is the history of the motion picture industry, is said to stand out prominently in various parts of "The Patriot." Monday, Viola Dana will appear in "The Light of Happiness," a Metro attraction. On Tuesday Rita Joliva will be seen in "An International Marriage." Tuesday, October 24, Mary Pickford will be starred in "Hulda From Holland."

"God's Country and a Woman," in eight reels will be seen Thursday, October 26.

The Donner Steel Company which is the outgrowth of the New York Steel Company purchased last spring by W. H. Donner and associates, is spending $5,000,000 for new mill and plant extensions which will shortly bring the plant output up to 1,000 tons of finished products per day.

BRITISH COAL INDUSTRY

To be Placed Under Control of the Government, Is Proposed.

The British government proposes to take over the coal industry of the United Kingdom upon an arrangement analogous to that which gives them control of the railways. The suggestion is that the coal owners should be allowed to take their profits but that the government should control the distribution of the coal for home consumption, for export and for shipping.

The main purpose of this scheme of nationalization is to give the government certain power of control over the neutral shipping which costs the British ports.

MORE STEEL CARS

Western Maryland Orders 2,000 to Lake Erie of Growing Coal Traffic.

The rapidly increasing coal traffic on the Western Maryland railroad particularly the tonnage now being produced in the Helen's run field of the Fairmont district now handled over the Fairmont branch of the Baltimore & Ohio to Connelville has made necessary the placing of additional orders for steel cars.

An order for 2,000 steel coal hoppers costing approximately $1,000,000 was given last week to the Pullman Company of Pullman, Ill. These, with the cars purchased within the past eight months will bring the total of new equipment up to 5,000. Three thousand of the same type of hoppers were bought last fall for the Pullman Company and are now in use.

General Superintendent Clay F. Leach of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, pays the salary of the teacher to about as the attendance is 10 or more. TO ERECT BIG STEEL MILLS

Philadelphia to Have a Carnegie Plant Is Reported.

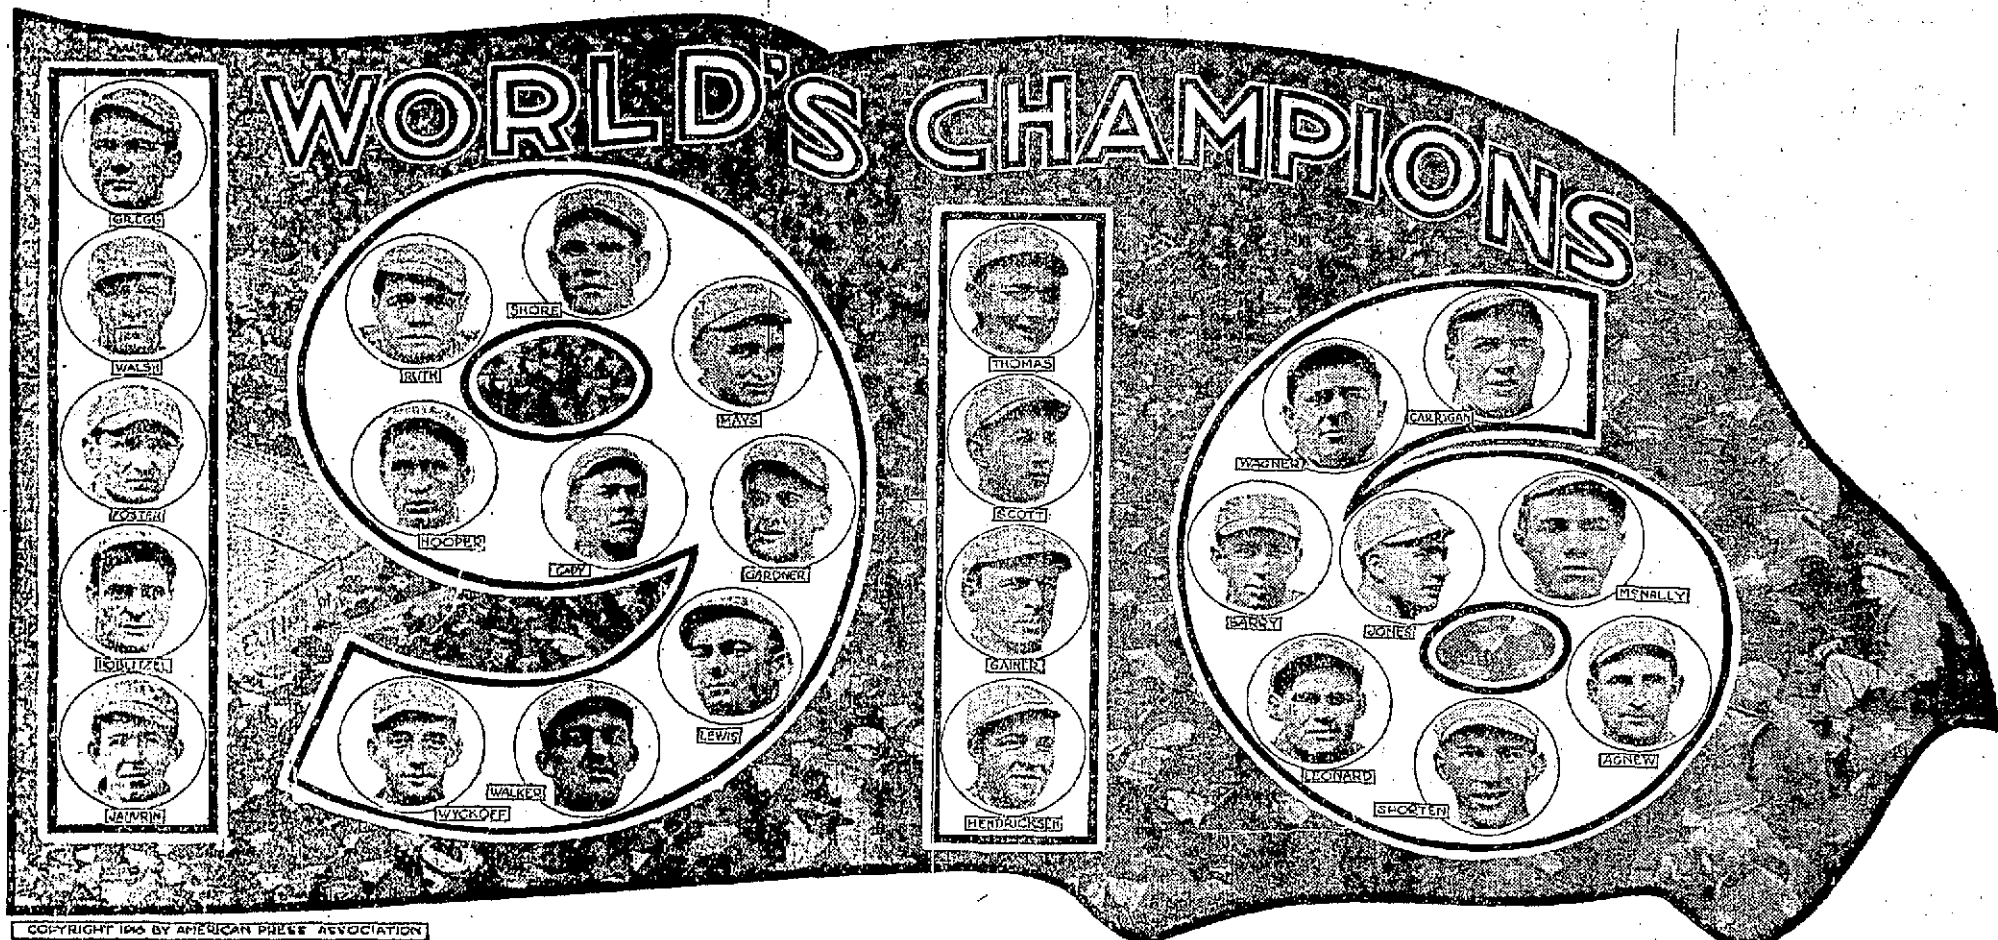

Special to The Courier.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The Ledger states that it was learned from a reliable source that the Carnegie Steel Company has decided to erect a great plant in this city. This with another similar concern, it was estimated, would have a yearly output probably aggregating from $16,000,000 to $20,000,000. The plants will provide work for at least 10,000 men. A site for the Carnegie plant has not yet been selected, but it is said that the location has slumped down to a choice between two places along the river front, one up and the other down the river on the outskirts of the city.

The statement that two large plants would locate in this city having a production valued at nearly $20,000,000 annually was made a few nights ago by Frederick W. Lawrence of the Chamber of Commerce in an address at a banquet here.

BOSTON RED SOX, AMERICAN LEAGUE, AGAIN WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

COPYRIGHT 1916 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

By winning the world's series from the National League champions the Boston Red Sox gathered in the world's championship for the American League twice in succession. Last year they turned the trick by defeating the Philadelphia Nationals four games to one. It was the first time since 1910-11 that a team won the world's championship twice in succession. The honors went to the Philadelphia Americans, the famous Athletics, in those years. The record for world's championships won in a row goes to the old Chicago Cubs, the marvelous machine, whose work in winning three times in a row in 1905, 1907 and 1908 is remembered by all fans. This year's Red Sox team is not as strong as last year's, having lost

Speaker, the wonderful center fielder, who is now with the Cleveland Indians. But the pitching staff is good and well balanced and the team has had all "the breaks of the game" most of the season.

$5 COKE A POSSIBILITY OF NEAR FUTURE; ALREADY SELLING AT $4.40 AND HIGHER

Security of Spot Grows as Coal Demand Increases and Prices Soar.

LABOR AND THE CAR SITUATION

Create a Condition That is Expected to Continue Into the New Year and Becomes Worse Winter Comes On. Consumers in Doubt Contracts.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—As higher prices are reached for spot furnace coke the market seems to advance more readily. While $3.75 was quoted a week ago as the market, sales at $4.25 began last Friday, that being the market on Saturday and Monday, while yesterday a new level was established by sales at $4.40, and the market is now quotable at that level, with prospects of still higher prices, $5.00 being predicted as a possibility for the near future.

It is true that the sales of spot furnace coke are relatively small, averaging perhaps something like 25 carloads a day, but when prices are so high it is obvious that they represent all the surplus coke available.

One cause of the scarcity of furnace coke is shortage of labor at the ovens, but the chief cause lies in the coal market, as higher and higher prices are bid for coal, the high prices arising partly from heavy demand, especially for shipment east, but chiefly from shortage of coal cars. All the operators, both in the Pittsburgh district and in the Connelville region, are having great difficulty in keeping up their shipments of coal on contracts and can only occasionally find coal to sell in the open market.

In the Fairmont region, where there is free coal available every day, the market now is $3.10 to $3.25 per gross ton at mine, for shipment east. On account of freight differentials in favor of Fairmont hardly as high prices could be realized. F. O. B. Pittsburgh district or Connelville region mines, but it is claimed that Pittsburgh district coal is close to $2.50 per net ton at mines.

Coke operators are proceeding on the theory that whatever scarcity of coke exists today is likely to be continuous through the first half of next year. Car supply is not expected to improve much at the close of lake navigation, and one authority estimates that of all the coal being shipped from the Central West only 10% is for the lake trade. Winter weather is expected to make cars scarcer than ever. The coke operators are accordingly disposed to quote still higher prices on furnace coke contracts for first half, as high as $4.99 being mentioned, and predictions are made that this price will be realized within 30 days.

The attitude of coke consumers is one of doubt. They expect to have to pay relatively high prices for coke for the first half, as compared with prices done on contracts for the present year, but they are in no mood to be stampeded in this excited market. There do not seem to be any definite bids for coke, but about $3.00 probably represents the level at which several furnace interests would close. There are others who regard the present movement as a flurry and are not enquiring at all. Contracts already made, as definitely authenticated, have been at $3.00 and $3.25, for the first half, while there is a rumor of $3.50 having been done. Foundry coke is higher in sympathy with furnace coke, and the market as a whole is quotable as follows:

Spot furnace $4.40
Contract furnace, first half $3.25 to $3.50
Spot foundry $4.00 to $4.25
Contract foundry $3.50 to $3.75

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

Shortage of labor and shortage of cars prevented the operators of the Connelville region from maintaining the output and shipment totals of the previous week. Notwithstanding these drawbacks production and shipments kept well above the 400,000 ton mark.

The security of coal car supply cut coke shipments down to 225,000 tons, 15,000 tons under the previous week. The combined coal and coke movement was reduced to 184,000 tons. Coke car supply was satisfactory, being held closely in 100% of shipper's requirements. Coal car supply reached 170,000 one day or two but on others dropped to 25% or lower.

That $6.00 coke is an early possibility seems no longer to be doubted. Spot coke is almost unobtainable and plant managers feel that it requires difficult effort to keep shipments up to contract requirements. The increasing demand and higher prices for coal, coupled with the shortage of labor and cars create a condition that disposes the operators to quote still higher prices on first half and yearly contracts. Spot is now quotable at $4.40 and rumors are current that $4.50 has been done on first half contracts.

The pig iron market continues to advance. This week opened with sales of basic at $20.00, Valley, an advance of 50 cents over the market of a week ago, while foundry iron is $1.10 to the same level, and malleable naturally follows suit. Bessemer remains quotable at $23.00, Valley, but the quotation is more or less nominal as there are no considerable tonnages available at any price, for shipment within the next six months. All sellers of pig iron are reserved and foundry iron furnaces are continuing their quotations to their regular customers. The market now stands as follows:

Bessemer $23.00
Basic $20.00
No. 1 foundry $20.00
Malleable $20.00
Gray iron $19.50

Basic iron has now passed the limit in certain sliding scale contracts, leaving the coke price at the maximum of the contracts, $5.00. There are one or two contracts in which there is no upper limit, but these involve smaller advances in coke in proportion to the advance in pig iron, and $3.50 coke has not yet arrived with $20.00 pig iron.

EVEN THE OLD MEN MOVE

Emigration from Cumberland Mining Field Shows Labor Curtailment.

An important Cumberland mining interest reports the loss of 500 men by recent emigration, and this is considered most unusual because of the large number of miners in that field who are old settlers, their fathers and grandfathers before them also having been residents of the district and workers in the mines.

The circumstance is pointed out as illustrating how even in the favored districts, where the miners always have good work at full wage rates, the number of men in service has been curtailed.

RAILROADS IN STEEL MARKET

Car and Locomotive Buying in Large Volume; Steel Mills Bought for 1918 Delivery.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Since September 1st orders have been placed for 20,000 freight cars, the steel being promptly covered with the steel mills, while there is about 150,000 tons of steel pending against inquiries now in the market for more than 10,000 cars. The car orders just placed represent more business than was done in the four months preceding. Locomotives ordered since September 1st total at least 250, or as many as were ordered in three months preceding. There has been some rail business placed for 1918 and more is now pending. The railroads have entered the steel market again, when it was supposed that their withdrawal last spring would hold until very materially lower steel prices should become available.

The United States Steel Corporation's loss of 137,718 tons during September in unfilled obligations occurred when the corporation was almost entirely out of the market on many of its products. The total loss in unfilled obligations in four months represents no more than the output for a week and a half and the obligations still represent the equivalent of more than seven months of production. We estimate that fully 60% of the obligations are in the form of actual specifications, representing at least as large a proportion as obtained three or four months ago, when the ratio was considered unacceptably high.

Steel production is increasing and October output will probably be at record rate, but there is still heavy pressure upon the mills for better deliveries. The leading steel and tin plate interests are carefully casting up their present obligations and output prospects, preparatory to opening up books for first half business. All business is to be done on the basis of outright sales. Deliveries are to be made and accepted as agreed upon. Some of the independent tin plate mills have already opened books, at $5.00 per base box.

Pig iron continues to stiffen. Basic, malleable and foundry are now $20.

OVER $10,000,000 A MONTH

B. & O. Is Showing Gratifying Increase in Its Monthly Earnings.

Gratifying monthly statements continue to be issued by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, which reports for August operating revenues of $10,550,229, an increase as compared with the same month of last year of $1,201,372. This is a record-breaker for monthly earnings in the history of the company, and while the net for the month shows a decrease in comparison with August, 1915, that is because the company is now spending very liberally for maintenance of its property, those expenses being included under the cost of operating. Total operating expenses were $7,382,075 for the month, an increase of $1,327,725, which includes more than $500,000 increase in the expenditures for maintenance of way, structure and equipment. The net operating revenue was $3,268,154, decrease $125,353. The increase in the cost of conducting transportation was $714,863 in a total of $3,463,504.

The statement for the two months of July and August combined shows operating revenue $20,794,142; an increase as compared with the same period of last year of $2,554,832. Total operating expenses $14,343,293, increase $2,907,749; net operating revenue $6,450,849, decrease $116,216. The increase in expenditures for maintenance was over $1,254,800 and in transportation expenses over $1,371,500.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

ONE of the many ridiculous charges made by the Prohibitionists is that the saloon is the main cause of poverty. If this were true all the "drys" would be riding in automobiles and the "wets" would not be able to afford mere carfare!

THE "drys" assume that the liquor business is the result of the saloon. Reasoning from this false premise they say that if it were not for the saloon there would be no liquor business, and therefore no place where the working man could squander his hard-earned wages. The Prohibitionists are wrong twice in the same place. They have put the cart before the horse. The saloon is the result, not the cause, of the demand for liquor. There are two men responsible for the saloon—the man in front of the bar and the man behind it. Take the man in front of the bar away and the saloon-keeper will go out of business. Take the saloon away and the man in front of the bar will go behind the bar to get a drink.

FACT
Workingmen Spend Less than 4 Cents a Day for Liquor.

IT IS no more a waste of money to buy beer than it is to buy jewelry, diamonds, perfumes, laces, candy, silks and satins. It is just as foolish to squander the money you need for necessities on these things as it is to invest in liquid refreshment.

POOR judgment causes people to spend money for luxuries that they need for other things, but liquor is not the luxury that has crimped the pocketbook of the working man. The Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that working men spend on an average less than four cents a day for liquors. The "drys" ask you to believe that four cents a day is the difference between poverty and riches. If they are right, Rockefeller could make all of us rich by giving us back the wealth he does not need and cannot use.

THE main causes of poverty are poor wages and lack of employment. The average amount paid to unskilled workers in the United States is less than $200 a year. Instead of spending around $15 a year for liquor these men could save up for 30 years and buy a Ford. They could then, if they were careful with the gasoline, run it for a month on what they could save by not indulging in liquor for a year!

IT IS a FALLACY to say that indulgence in alcoholic beverages makes for poverty, when FACTS, given by United States Labor Statistics, show that workingmen spend on an average less than four cents a day for liquor!

Colie, who had been watching anxiously from the corral, came across the yard to the veranda. He was dressed for riding, and he had a gun on his hip. Overland smiled. "You little idiot," he said, "when your Uncle Jack's brains get cooled just give the bad news to the press. You're just Colie to get in a mass and get plugged. I ain't. I figure to ride down the Moonstone trail, steerin' the Guezuz with one hand and smellin' a bunch of roses in the other. Watch my snuff. Now, best fit."

Louise, coming blithely from the dining room, nodded to Overland. Her persistence had departed. Her cheeks were flushed. "Oh, Colie! Saddle Boy!" she began, but Overland coughed disapprovingly. He did not wish Tenlow and Saunders to suspect that the led horse was for Louise.

"Or—no. Saddle Sarno," said Louise, at once aware of Overland's plan. "And have him at the foot of the hill for me as soon as you can."

"Yes, Miss Louise." And Colie departed for the corral wondering. Overland was too much for him.

They had luncheon and allowed Colie two hours to arrive at the valley level with the led pony. After luncheon Louise appeared in riding skirt and boots. "Mr. Summers is going to take me for a ride in his new car," she said. "Don't worry, aunt. He is going to drive slowly. He finds that he has to leave unexpectedly."

"But how will you come back?" questioned Anne.

"Colie has gone ahead with a spare pony. Goodbye, aunt."

"I can't thank you enough for all that you have done for Billy. I am so glad he's well and strong again. We never could manage him. Goodbye, and tell Billy he must come over and see us right away."

As Colie rode down the last pitch, leading the restive Sarno, Dick Tenlow stepped from the brush. "Morning, Colie! Out for a little pleasure?"

"Shouldn't wonder, Dick." "Horses are lookin' good. Feed good on the hills yet?" "Pretty good."

"I hear you got company up to the Moonstone?"

"Yep. Eastern folks, doctor and his wife." And Colie looked the deputy hard in the eye.

"Oh, that was their machine I heard coughin' up the canyon last night, eh?" "I didn't ask them about that," replied Colie.

"You're impertin' since you first come into these hills," said Tenlow, with some sarcasm.

"I'm holdin' down a better job than I did then," said Colie good naturedly. "Well, I ain't. I'm holdin' the same job, which you will recollect. It ain't much of a job, but it's good to regulation that anyone you're leadin'."

"Just a minute," began the deputy. "Where's my pony, Colie? He didn't get away, did he?"

"No, ma'am. Mr. Tenlow requisitioned him. Thought I'd wait till you came along so I could explain."

"Requisitioned my pony? What do you mean?"

"It's this way, Miss Lacharme. That man there in the machine is wanted. He—"

"What has that to do with my pony, please?"

"I guess you know who he is. I figured he was layin' to get away on that pony."

"You want to go back to school, pardner, and learn to figure correct," said Overland, his foot on the accelerator pedal of the throttling car. "One minute one is nothing."

"Hold on there!" cried Tenlow, striding forward. Louise stood between the deputy and the car.

"My horse, please," she said quietly. As she spoke the car roared, jumped forward and shot down the smooth grade of the valley road.

"Now, Mr. Tenlow, I wish you would explain this to me and then to Uncle Walter. I sent one of our men with a horse. He was to wait for me here. What right have you to interfere with him?"

"I guess I got as much right as you have to interfere with me," said Tenlow sullenly.

"Hold on there!" cried Colie, jumping forward.

"Colie, I'll talk with him."

"Take my horse, Miss Louise," said Colie, flushing.

"No, indeed, I'll ride Sarno."

"No, Mr. Tenlow will get him, I am sure."

"A woman can make any deal look smooth—if she is interested," said Tenlow, turning toward the brush. He came out leading the pony.

"Thank you, Colie, you may get the mail, please."

Colie stood watching her as she rode away. Then, with much deliberation, he tied his own pony Apache to a clump of greasewood. He unbuckled his belt and hung it, with gun and holster, to the ground.

"Now," he said, his face blazing white with suppressed anger. "I'm going to make you eat that speech about any woman making things look smooth—if she's interested."

Down the next ditch rolled the car, rocking to the success of the mountain road. Overland opened the throttle, the machine shot forward and in a few seconds drew up abreast of the deputy.

"Thank you so much, Mr. Summers," said Louise, stepping from the car. "How are you, Mr. Tenlow?"

"Howdy, Miss Lacharme."

"Goodby, Mr. Summers. I enjoyed the ride very much."

"Just a minute," began the deputy. "Where's my pony, Colie? He didn't get away, did he?"

hit and rip you with the spurs and expect you to behave."

"He'll be teachin' her to say her prayers next," observed Bud Light. "He's gettin' a spell on her now."

"He'll need all his for himself," said Pars Long.

The pony flinched and sidled away as Colie tried to mount. Her glossy ears were flattened and the rims of her eyes showed white.

"Jump!" whispered Williams. "And don't rough her. Mobby you'll win out."

With a leap the Moonstone rider was in the saddle. The pony shook her head as he reined her round toward the corral gate. The men stared. Gleason swore.

"Here's where she goes to it," said Williams.

"Whoop! Let 'er back!" shouted the crowd.

Rebellion swelled in the pony's rippling muscles. She waited, fore feet braced, for the first sting of the quirt, the first rip of the spurs, to turn herself into a hellish thing of plunging destruction.

Colie, leaning forward, yanked her neck. "Come on, sis. Come on, Yuma girl. You're just a little hummingbird. You ain't a real horse."

With a leap the pony reared. Still there came no sting, a spur or quirt. She dropped to her feet. Colie and cleverly consumed a minute of the allotted time.

"One minute!" called Williams, holding the watch.

"Why, that ain't ridin'," grumbled an Oro man.

"See you later," said Williams, and several of his companions looked at him strangely. The foreman's eyes were fixed on the watch.

Colie had also heard, and he dug his unspurred heels into the pony's sides. She leaped straight for the corral gate and freedom. With a patter of hoofs, stiff-legged, she jolted toward the plain.

A few short jumps, a flibbly swirl sideways, and still Colie held his seat. He eased the backmore a little. He was breathing hard. The horse took the slack with a vicious plunge, head downward. The boy's face grew white. He felt something warm trickling down his month and chin. He threw back his head and gripped with his knees.

"There's off!" halted a puncher.

"Only one of 'em—so far," said Williams. "One minute and thirty seconds."

Then, like a bolt of copper light, the pony shot forward at a run.

On the ranch house veranda sat Walter Stone conversing with his host, where several girls, bright faced and gowned in cool white, were talking and laughing.

The pony headed straight for the veranda. The laughing group jumped to their feet. Colie, using both hands, swung the backmore across the outlaw's neck and tagged.

His head was snapped back and then forward at every plunge. Still he gripped the saddle with rigid knees. The outlaw bucked again and flung herself viciously sideways, turning completely round. Colie plucked drunkenly as the horse came down again and again. His eyes were blurred and his brain grew numb. Faintly he heard Brand Williams cry: "Two minutes! Moonstone wins!" Then came a cheer. His gripping knees relaxed. He reeled and all around him the air grew streaked with silvers of piercing fire. He pitched headforemost at the feet of the group on the veranda.

In a flash Louise Lacharme was beside him kneeling and supporting his head. "Water!" she cried, wiping his face with her handkerchief.

The pony, with backmore dangling, raced across the plain toward the hills. "This'll do just as well," said Williams, pouring a mouthful of whiskey between Colie's lips. Then the tactful foreman lifted the youth to his feet. Colie dragged along, stepping shakily. "Deru little fool!" said Williams affectionately. "You ain't satisfied to get killed where you belong, but you got to go and splutter yourself all over the front yard in front of the ladies. You with your bloody nose and your face shot plumb full of gravel. If you knowed how you looked when she plied you!"

"I know how she looked," said Colie. "That's good enough for me. Did I make it?"

"The bronk is yours," said Williams. "Bud and Miguel just rode out after her."

Then Williams did an unaccountable thing. He hunted among the crowd till he found the man who had said, "Why, that ain't ridin'." He asked the man quietly if he had made such a remark. The other replied that he had. Then Williams promptly knocked him down with all the wily strength of his six feet of bone and muscle. "Take that home and look at it," he remarked, walking away.

Saved by a Dream.

A farmer living at Lapford, England, dreamed thrice in succession that he saw a pit dug in one of his fields and some of his property cast into it. At the third time of dreaming he got up, dressed and went out. He heard the thud of a spade and caught sight of a man digging by lantern light. The digger fled at his approach. It was a grave upon which he had been at work. By its brink lay a huge knife. On his way back the farmer met one of his maidservants. She had had a quarrel with the man to whom she had been engaged, she said, but he had prevailed upon her to meet him for the last time at 12 o'clock that morning, when he had something to show her. "This is what he had to show you," said the farmer, leading her to the grave.—London Tatler.

One Kind of a Woman.

In one of the leading grocery stores a richly attired woman was overheard ordering a pound of tea. "The eighty cent kind," she reminded the clerk. "We want it good." She was turning away when she stopped suddenly and, attracting the attention of the clerk, pointed to a coffee can marked "Seventeen cents a pound." "Just give me a quarter of a pound of that, please," she said. "My husband is the only one in the family who uses coffee."
